

Sara Brunner AUDIO

📅 Wed, 4/29 11:37AM ⌚ 1:08

SUMMARY KEYWORDS

recommends, pets, keeping, lyme disease, vincent, vet, safe, dogs, treat, medication, conveniently, bite, worst case scenario, bit, imagined, today, tick

SPEAKERS

Sara Brunner

Sara Brunner 00:00

Hey everyone, my name is Sara and I am here today to share with you some tips about keeping yourself safe from Lyme disease-you and your family. And conveniently enough, Vincent came to help me share today. And what I actually wanted to talk about was keeping your pets protected because it's not just good for them. It's good for you too. I always imagined the worst case scenario being one of our dogs getting bit by a tick and that tick, getting brought into the house with them and then finding one of us so as much as it does scare me a little bit every year when I give them meds and Vincent just being a puppy, it was his first time this year. But we do treat them, my vet recommends bravecto and I trust my vet. So every year we treat them with whatever medication the vets recommending, so that if I take does bite them, it's gonna fall off right away and die and not come into our house. So this way, we're keeping ourselves and our pets safe and yeah, that's my tip. Thanks.